This policy must be read in conjunction with the annual admission notice for the school year concerned.

The application form for admission is published on the school's website and will be made available in hardcopy on request to any person who requests it.

2. Characteristic spirit and general objectives of the school

St. Finian's National School is a Catholic co-educational primary school with a Catholic ethos under the patronage of the Archbishop/Bishop of Kerry.

"Catholic Ethos" in the context of a Catholic primary school means the ethos and characteristic spirit of the Roman Catholic Church, which aims at promoting:

- (a) the full and harmonious development of all aspects of the person of the pupil, a living relationship with God and with other people; and
- (b) including the intellectual, physical, cultural, moral and spiritual aspects; and
- (c) a philosophy of life inspired by belief in God and in the life, death and resurrection of Jesus; and
- (d) the formation of the pupils in the Catholic faith;

and which school provides religious education for the pupils in accordance with the doctrines, practices and traditions of the Roman Catholic Church, and/or such ethos and/or characteristic spirit as may be determined or interpreted from time to time by the Irish Episcopal Conference.

In accordance with S.15 (2) (b) of the Education Act, 1998 the Board of Management of St. Finian's National School shall uphold, and be accountable to the patron for so upholding, the characteristic spirit of the school as determined by the cultural, educational, moral, religious, social, linguistic and spiritual values and traditions which inform and are characteristic of the objectives and conduct of the school.

Mission Statement & General Objectives of the School

St. Finian's National School is a co-educational, Catholic, primary school, which strives to provide a well-ordered, caring, happy and secure atmosphere where the intellectual, spiritual, physical, moral and cultural needs of the pupils are identified and addressed. We offer a holistic education so that each child will emerge as self-reliant and confident. We hope to achieve this through the collaborative effort of teachers and all staff, children, parents and the wider community.

While St. Finian's National School is a school with a Catholic ethos, it also has due recognition for all other religions.

St. Finian's National School will strive to promote, both individually and collectively, the professional and personal development of teachers through staff development programmes.

St. Finian's National School will endeavour to enhance the self-esteem of everyone in the school community, to imbue in the pupils respect for people and property and to encourage in them the idea of being responsible.

St. Finian's National School will promote gender equity amongst the teachers and pupils.

Déanfaimid iarracht Gaeilge a labhairt.

The school motto is Always do your best. (Déan do dhicheall I gconai)

St. Finian's National School's objectives are:

- To enable the child to live a full life as a child and to realise his or her potential as a unique individual.
- To enable the child to develop as a social being through living and co-operating with others and so contribute to the good of society.
- To prepare the child for a continuum of learning.

The primary curriculum aims to provide a broad learning experience and encourages a rich variety of approaches to teaching and learning that cater for the different needs of individual children. The revised primary curriculum, launched in 1999, was the first complete revision of the curriculum since 1971. The revised curriculum is designed to nurture the child in all dimensions of his or her life—spiritual, moral, cognitive, emotional, imaginative, aesthetic, social and physical.

The new Primary Language Curriculum (2016) has been introduced for pupils of all abilities in all primary schools, from junior infants to sixth class in English-medium schools, Gaeltacht schools, Irish-medium schools and special schools. The curriculum has the same structure and strands for both English and Irish, supporting children’s learning in both languages while also acknowledging the diversity of languages spoken in our primary schools. Everyone learns better when the material is engaging and relevant, and when the methods of learning are enjoyable. The new curriculum recognises teachers as skilled professionals making key decisions about teaching and learning, while providing the tools and support that they need to ensure our children can grow and develop, and are prepared for their next stage in their education and beyond.” The Primary Language Curriculum was introduced in junior infants to second class on a phased basis from September 2016. It is recognised internationally that developing skills in one language will help children to develop similar skills in another language. An important part of this language-learning environment through the new curriculum will be an emphasis on playful and engaging experiences for younger children. In the classroom children are encouraged to talk and respond with opinions, thoughts and ideas alongside the work to develop of reading and writing. The curriculum is designed to support and allow children to progress at their own pace and through relationships that are supportive, engaging and inclusive. Feedback from the introduction of the Primary Language Curriculum from 2016 has informed development and resulted in a more streamlined and accessible curriculum which facilitates engaging and rich language learning experiences for children in our schools. The Primary Language Curriculum is now being rolled out to all classes.

The curriculum is divided into the following key areas:

- Language – Irish and English
- Mathematics
- Social, Environment and Scientific Education
- Arts Education, including Visual Arts, Music and Drama
- Physical Education
- Social, Personal and Health Education.
